

Annual Autism Awareness Month Door Decorating Contest

Our autism services students couldn't have their traditional door decorating contest in their classrooms for autism awareness month...so they decorated their doors at home instead!

Heidt Center of Excellence Student BJ's door was selected by the judging committee and he received the much coveted prize of having Chik-fil-A delivered to his door!

All of the door designs were unique and original...just like our students. You can see the other doors below.
